

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September, I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and I thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a healthy normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backaches, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness, and the blues, a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she values her future comfort and happiness.

It is easier to bear what's amiss than to go about to reform it.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many medicines that are so intensively advertised, and at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitated to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every want of a medicine. It cures liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing Post Office Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclosing ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

MR. BLACK BUCK.

"We're of the Black Buck or Sasin Antelope family." "We're of the Gazelle family. There are about twenty-five species of us and our families live in Asia and Africa."

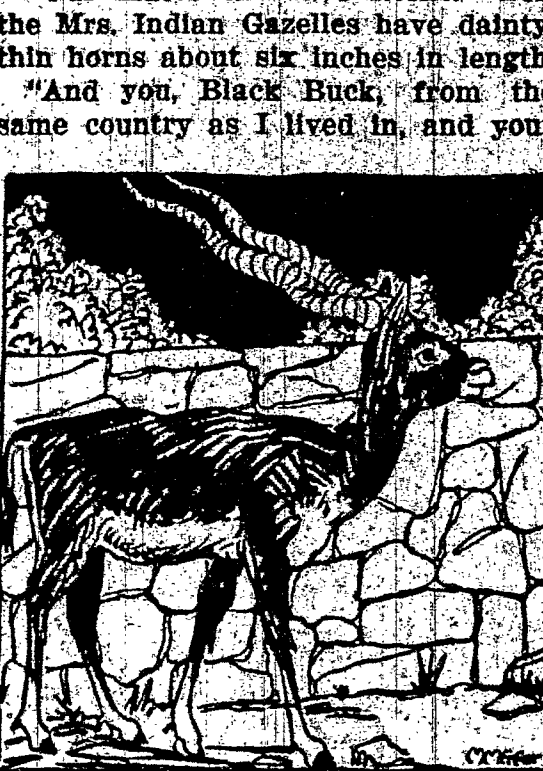

"Oh," the Gazelle went on, "we're graceful and dainty, as dainty as any members of the antelope or deer family you could hope to find."

"Folks wonder how it is our bones don't break and how we can play about and jump about. But we understand the way we are made and we like to be as we are. We love gracefulness and beauty, and we wouldn't want to be great tough things for anything."

"Yes," said the Indian Gazelle, who had come from India as his name explained, "there are a number of us, and we special ones are often called Ravine Deer or Ravine Gazelles, for we love ravines and live along ravines in our homes in India."

"Our mates all have horns. Yes, the Mrs. Indian Gazelles have dainty, thin horns about six inches in length."

"And you, Black Buck, from the same country as I lived in, and your family, care for the same sort of ravine neighborhood as my family does. We're very much alike."

"You were going to talk and we never gave you a proper chance. We beg your pardon. Pray tell us what you were going to say."

"At any rate I beg your pardon, and I am sure the Gazelle does, too."

"I do," the Gazelle answered.

"I wasn't going to say much of anything," the Black Buck answered. "I hadn't introduced myself as yet to any of the boys and girls. At least I don't think many of them know me. Those who come to the zoo often meet but there are many who don't come to the zoo, and you know we're all trying to let our stories be heard by many boys and girls so they'll know of us and of our ways and so they'll be more familiar with the animal world."

"Then when they come to the zoos they will recognize us when they see us and will bow to us and know us by name."

"The farm animals are telling their stories as they say that many city children do not know who they are and what they do, so we're all doing it as much as possible."

"A good idea," said the Gazelle.

"An excellent one," said the Indian Gazelle.

"My name is not only Black Buck," said Mr. Black Buck, "but it is also Sasin Antelope."

"I am of the antelope or deer family and they say that I am more beautiful than any of the smaller ones. That is, I am very handsome and handsome means fine-looking and rather distinguished looking rather than pretty and graceful."

"When we're born we're fawn colored like the ladies of the family, but when we grow older we grow darker, for when we're quite grown up, we gentlemen of the family wear brown-black coats."

"Our horns are long and very much marked with rings and they look a little like spiral stairways."

"They arise from our heads in a shape which looks something like the letter Y and are interesting looking horns."

"To be sure when we're full-grown we don't wear entirely dark suits. Our coats and collars are dark but our waists are light."

"Truly it is nice to be a Black Buck and to have spiral stairway horns."

"Just think what an adventure I could have walking up my own horns if it were only possible."

"It's not possible, not possible at all, but if it were possible wouldn't it be a funny joke?"

"You'd have to take them off you before you could walk up them," one of the others said.

"True," said the Black Buck, "and I'll never do that. Besides they're not long enough to do much walking upon. They're only about twenty-five inches long."

"That wouldn't be taking much of a walk. But I'm proud of them and I hope they'll be thought an interesting part of me; that is what I hope!"

FEEDING THE FAMILY.

The children of the family, being the most important members as to proper feeding, must follow the English custom, which is ideal, of having a table of their own, where they are not permitted any compromise between what they ought to have and what they want. The result is of course sturdy, healthy youngsters. A few American families are now following this system, but the most as yet from necessity; others from indifference allow the children to eat with the family, where they usually have what they cry for, for the sake of peace at the sacrifice of manners, morals and physique.

The average housemother cannot run two sets of meals and serve at the same time the needs of the young and the desires of the old.

One may restrict the diet of the elders to conform to the food which should be given the young for the two meals of the day, having dinner at noon, or let the little people have supper by themselves earlier than the evening dinner hour.

Children under five should never be given food not suited to their age and condition. The problem then is to serve meals which will be suitable for the whole family for breakfast and luncheon, and neither unbalanced nor inadequate for either child or adult.

In the feeding of children considerable difference is made in the difference between a child and an adult. In comparison of size the child is being a great deal more work than the adult, but his natural appetite will take care of the amount of food needed to build the body and keep up energy. The child's food, because he has to just more, must be easily digested, more wholesome and be better balanced, or trouble will follow.

Children should have fats, such as cream, butter and olive oil, all easily digested. Plenty of fat, two ounces of butter to a pound of bread is considered a normal amount—a great factor in growth.

When the child refuses to eat stop feeding or give liquid diet, and consult a physician.

The child, fortunately, who has not been pampered, does not need a variety of food to stimulate the appetite, neither sauces nor condiments, "hunger is the best sauce."

Let us pause, an idle hour waiting to be employed, idle hands waiting with no occupation, idle and empty minds with nothing to think of—these are the main temptations to evil. Fill up that empty void, employ those vacant hours, occupy those listless hands, the world is desperately in need of earnest workers—then evil will depart, because it has no place to enter, because it is conquered by good.—Dean Stanley.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

When the ordinary foods lose their interest try these:

Italian Round Steak—Boil two pounds of round steak and two ounces of beef soup through a meat chopper; add one-fourth of a cupful of breadcrumbs, a teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, one tablespoonful of grated onion, two well-beaten eggs; mix well and form together into balls the size of an egg. Simmer together one can of tomatoes, one cupful of water, one onion, one clove of garlic, one green pepper sliced fine, two cloves two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, a small pinch of bay leaf; after one half hour press through a sieve. Reheat in a shallow dish, when boiling lay in the balls, cover and simmer one hour. Have ready two-thirds of a package of elbow macaroni cooked tender in salted water, drained and rinsed in water. Lift the meat balls from the dish to the center of the serving dish, surround the meat with the macaroni, pour the sauce over the macaroni, then sprinkle with half a cupful of grated cheese. Garnish with rings of green peppers.

Jellied Fruit Salad—Soften one ounce, or two and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin in half a cupful of water; and dissolve in one cupful of boiling water; add two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, the juice of half a lemon, one cupful of pineapple juice, and stir until the sugar is dissolved; set the liquid into a dish of ice water, and when it begins to thicken stir in six slices of canned pineapple cut in small wedge-shaped bits and two-thirds of a cupful of toky grapes cut in halves and seeded. When the mixture is thick enough to hold up the fruit turn into a mold or shallow pan. When ready to serve unmold and cut into eight pieces. Serve in crisp heart leaves of lettuce with dressing poured over it. Sprinkle with nuts and serve.

DAIRY POINTS

BULL ASSOCIATIONS GAINING

In Count-Up for Last Fiscal Year an Increase of 57 Per Cent Is Noted—More in South.

In the count-up of bull associations for the last fiscal year made by the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, associations are found all over the country. There are now 123, where there were only 77 the year before. This is an increase of 57 per cent. Thirty of the 48 states in the union are on the list. Associations are not equally numerous in all states, however, for four—Alabama, Pennsylvania, Mississippi and South Carolina—furnish nearly half of the total. The number of associations found in each of these four states is as follows: Alabama, 7; Pennsylvania, 21; Mississippi, 11; and South Carolina, 17. Three of these leading states are in the cotton belt. Dairying is comparatively new in that part of the country, and the men going into the business are building on the right foundations from the start. One of the important foundations of effective and lucrative dairying is co-operation, and the extension work carried on by the dairy division and by the various state agricultural colleges has been the means of introducing efficient methods at the outset wherever dairying is taken up in the South.

Pennsylvania is an old-established dairy state, but has taken to the bull-association idea in a remarkable manner, and has in fact the largest number of all.

A Bull Should Be Selected to Improve the Dairy Qualities of the Herd He Is Head.

One of the helps of the livestock feeder which is being used more generally every day is the crude, or low grade, molasses from a sugar mill. The value of the feed has been found to be not only in the actual nutrition content, as indicated by the analysis, but because of its quality—not exactly succulent, but akin to that which makes it an appetizer. Especially is it valuable where the cows are not permitted to run on pasture or where they are not permitted to exercise. The molasses acts both as a digester and tonic and takes the place of green feed which tends to keep the cows healthy and increases all their normal functions, such as the milk producing powers. Then, too, dairy cows which are confined in small areas often lose their appetites, and when they do milk production naturally drops off. By adding a little molasses to the ration they will regain their appetites and besides eat more than they did without the molasses, which of course increases their milk production.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health

CITY ECHOES.

—Mrs. L. A. Fortier and sister, Miss M. Augustin have returned from New Orleans, where they spent several days visiting relatives and friends.

—Mrs. Frank B. Fox, of Jackson, Miss., is spending the week in Bay St. Louis, visiting her sons, Masters Frank and Russell Fox, as colleagues at St. Stanislaus.

—Mr. G. W. Martin and family, after a year's residence in Carroll avenue, returned to New Orleans Wednesday morning, where they will reside in future. Their son, Lee, has entered S. S. as a boarder.

—County Assessor F. C. Boudages, Sr., and City Assessor, F. L. Egloff, are busily engaged in their official work, covering the city territory of Bay St. Louis. The task is a big one, but both men are competent and experienced and the task could not be in better hands. The work over the county is also in process by duly appointed deputies.

—Mr. Member, Kea, a graduate of A. M. College, and not only a scholar, but a gentleman, reached here from his home at Wesson, Miss., Monday evening and has joined the Merchants Bank force. He is stopping at the home of his brother, Mr. Geo. J. Kea, in Washington Street.

—Mr. Munro Nichols, editor and publisher of The Mississippiian, monthly publication formerly of Jackson, but now of Gulfport, was a business visitor to Bay St. Louis Thursday, accompanied by publisher, Mark Reader, until recently of the Twin Cities Daily, Albany, Alabama, but now of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

—Assistant Postmaster, Ainslie Saucier is out and about a little this week, after the serious nature of his illness. Since, when the gasoline in the tank of an auto becoming ignited from the sparks of a cold-chisel exploded and severely burned Mr. Saucier about the leg. His efficient and accommodating services at the postoffice will again be welcomed by the patrons.

—Concluding their three weeks services here Sunday as missionaries, Rev. Father Alexander and Alexis, will leave here the early part of next week, Father Alexander going to Baton Rouge, La., and Father Alexis to New Iberia, La., where they will conduct a similar mission. While here the Passionist fathers acquired many new friends and acquaintances who are loath to see them leave.

—Considerable building operations are in progress at Clermont Harbor these days. A number of bungalow bungalows have been constructed and about a half dozen others are in the building. Quite a boom has hit the pretty little place south of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and it would seem Clermont is at last going to come into its own.

—Mrs. John Osoinach was taken to Towne Infirmary, New Orleans, Sunday morning, quite ill, and much concern was felt by many friends of the family as to her condition, however, The Echo is glad to state from late reports her condition is such as to indicate her early recovery and return home to her loved ones. Mrs. Osoinach's illness appeared quite suddenly and at one time it seemed an operation would be imperative to her recovery.

—That Waveland is to have a picture show attraction is settled. Ground is already broken and arrangements completed for the building of an air dome on the northeast corner of Railroad avenue and Nicholson avenue, near the Company. Mr. R. L. Hollock, a young man of experience in that line of business will conduct the enterprise.

—Mr. Frank B. Pittman, and his charming and accomplished bride, married at Moss Point, Miss., last week, passed through Bay St. Louis Sunday afternoon by motor route to their home of the Weston Farm, in the interior of the county, where they are "at home" to their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Pittman spent Thursday afternoon in this city and were receiving the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends from on every side.

—The news carrying the announcement of the early resumption of active operation of the big mills at Kiln, this county, owned by the Edward Hines Company, will be received with much satisfaction. The mills have been closed since the early part of December, during which time the vast equipment has undergone a thorough overhauling, and will be in splendid shape for long and active run. The inactivity of the plant at Kiln has been keenly felt and its resumption will mean the return of much prosperity.

At a meeting of the Bay St. Louis Federation of Catholic Women's Clubs, held Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Marshall Ballard, in the chair, the following resolution was adopted and wired to the local representatives in both houses of Congress: "We, the Federation of Catholic Women's Clubs of Bay St. Louis, Miss., while feeling that the Sheppard-Towner bill does not meet the requirements which are as urgent in the cases of maternity and child hygiene, namely, care with education, we nevertheless urge the passage of said Sheppard-Towner bill, feeling that this is but a beginning of a recognition by Congress for the preservation and care of the mothers of the United States and its future citizenship—the children."

The meeting was largely attended. After its adjournment the Sisters of St. Joseph's Convent, where the meeting was held, served delicious refreshments and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

QUITS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE JOB TO ENTER LAW FIRM.

Assistant Manager John A. Osoinach of the Chamber of Commerce has tendered his resignation to the board of directors of that institution, effective March 1st. He will engage in the practice of law with W. H. Fitzhugh and Royden Dixon, of the firm name of Fitzhugh, Dixon & Osoinach.

Mr. Osoinach is a graduate of the law school of the George Washington University, Washington, D. C., finishing his course in that institution in 1918. Before entering the university he read law in Mississippi and is a member of the bar of that state. He came to Memphis, two years ago to become assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which position he has held since.

In addition to being a lawyer, Mr. Osoinach is an experienced newspaperman. For several years he followed this profession in Mississippi and was for a long time editor of the Biloxi Herald. He was also employed by the New Orleans Times-Picayune. During the time he has been connected with the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Osoinach has edited the Journal, the official organ of the chamber, and the growth of this paper has been largely due to his management.

William C. Headrick will succeed Mr. Osoinach as assistant manager of the chamber. Mr. Headrick is at present secretary of the social agencies' indorsement committee and will continue that work in connection with his new duties as assistant manager of the Journal and manager of the publicity division.

Mr. Headrick came to Memphis from Atlanta last March. He was formerly connected with the southern division of the American Red Cross and was director of that organization's work in public health service hospitals for some time.—Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal, February 27.

UP TO OFFICIAL AUTHORITY.

Last week The Echo took occasion to publish a communication from Hon. S. F. von Ehren, president of the Board of City School Trustees, Bay St. Louis, wherein he replied to previous communications, appearing in these columns, from the pen of Mr. E. J. Lawrence, citizen and patron of the Bay St. Louis Central School. Mr. Lawrence had taken occasion to criticize the work and subsequently the ability of the principal of the school. The Echo, in an item, gave voice to the opinion that the matter was one for the Board of Trustees to consider and dispose of. Apparent Board met and discussed the matter, with the result that Mr. von Ehren's communication, as published in these columns last week, followed. Its contents are well known to our readers and will bear no repetition here.

Accordingly, to our mind, since the matter was given official recognition and seemingly settled, the matter should rest here for the time being at least. The term of school is coming to a close and the continued discussion of the matter at this time will in no way ameliorate matters. And we are still of the opinion the subject, if to be continued, will do for the official authorities to handle, and not the public print. The Board of Trustees are the ones to be appealed to, if an appeal is to be taken.

The Echo is pleased to announce that the Hancock County Consolidated School, which was closed Thursday and Friday last, was the result of a fire which broke out in the building on Thursday night. The school was closed for the purpose of allowing the fire to be extinguished and the building to be repaired.

At a meeting of the Hancock County Consolidated School, held on Thursday night, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, that the Hancock County Consolidated School be closed for the purpose of allowing the fire to be extinguished and the building to be repaired." The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2.

The Hancock County Consolidated School, which was closed Thursday and Friday last, was the result of a fire which broke out in the building on Thursday night. The school was closed for the purpose of allowing the fire to be extinguished and the building to be repaired.

There will be a meeting of the Altar Society Sunday—tomorrow—afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the convent hall. A full attendance is respectfully urged.

CLOSING EXERCISES DEDEAUX CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL.

Editor Sea Coast Echo: Dedeaux Consolidated School at Vidalia closed Thursday and Friday last. The exercises at the school were of a high order and were well attended.

At eleven o'clock the program began. Prof. T. E. Keller, County Superintendent of Education, gave an address on the "History of Education." Prof. S. P. Powell, superintendent of Kiln school, followed, and the people with his breezy speech, "The Industrial and Educational Progress."

Dr. Williams, County Health Officer, gave an interesting lecture on the subject of "The Sanitary Conditions of the School." Prof. J. D. Remington, Superintendent of Education of Harrison County was also present and delivered an able talk stressing the necessity of education.

After the addresses, the next on the program was a "spread" for many baskets were brought abundantly filled with chicken and cake, and many other delicacies too numerous to mention and were enjoyed immensely.

But (?) after lunch, yes even as good as "that" was something more exciting happened! What was it, you say? To be exact—it was nothing less than the basketball game which had been arranged between Sellers and the Kiln girls.

Just at two o'clock the whistle sounded and the girls in their places started the game cheerfully. Many exciting plays were made during the game, which was refereed by Miss Ethel Turner, primary teacher of the Dedeaux school.

Kiln defeated Sellers by a score of 18-5. The team work of both teams were good, but that of Kiln far surpassed Sellers.

The line-ups were as follows: SELLERS—Nolan Cuevas, forward. Nolan Cuevas, forward. Lucina Smith, guard. Delia Smith, guard. Ethel Smith, jumping center. Beulah Smith, running center.

KILN—Bonnie Mae Holden, forward. Evelyn Dubouché, forward. Electa Nicaise, guard. Rena Nicaise, guard. Ethel Cuevas, jumping center. Beulah Smith, running center. Samantha Beech, running center.
